Urban Health - Emerging Health Perspective: A praiseworthy resource for a potential urban health crisis

URBAN Health - Emerging Health Perspective is a new book compiled and edited by Dr Edmond Fernandes and Dr. Indu Grewal. Published by global health strategies, the book looks at health in emerging and evolving urban settings.

By MAHESH CHOWDHURY

The book is a compilation of 20 chapters written by different authors, covering a wide variety of topics ranging from road safety, water & sanitation to drug abuse in an urban context.

The book highlights how populations are preferring to move to cities for and how that influences social, commercial, environmental and legal determinants of health.

Considering that India is going through rapid urbanization, industrialization and globalization, there are new challenges that demand new algorithms and thoughts aligned with urban health issues, living space, crowding and diseases and rapid transmission of infectious diseases, the editors do a praiseworthy job of bringing these diverse themes within the umbrella of Urban Health.

The editors have brought global researchers from various backgrounds and hence offer varying and unique perspectives to urban health as a concept, hence, saving the book from becoming an advocate for a certain school of thought or otherwise. The book is an important read for Students, Public Health & Public Policy Professionals, policy makers, Government & UN Officials, civil society organisations and other stakeholders. What remains missing from the book is some focus on smart cities and urban architecture. It also fails to include the end game diseases like malaria, dengue, Tuberculosis. Inclusion of those could have built greater value to the same.

Mizo nationalism our driving force: CM Zoramthanga

MIZORAM, SEPT 21: Mizoram chief minister and Mizo National Front (MNF) president Zoramthanga on Tuesday laid Mizo nationalism as the main driving force behind the martyrdom of Mizo heroes, is pivotal to the survival of Mizoram and the Mizo.

The ruling MNF observed martyr's day to pay tribute to those who laid down their lives for the cause of the state and the Mizo.

Speaking at the grand observance of 42nd martyr's day held at Vanapa 'trial' here, Zoramthanga said each nation has its own form of nationalism. However, the Mizo nationalism is unique and different from others as it stands for 'God and the Mizo nation,' he said. Citing that the MNF party has been facing up and down, the MNF president said the party would not have reached its present position had it not believed in God and used Him as its refuge.

"We would not have reached this stage had we promote nationalism and function without the help of God. This is the covenant of not only the MNF but also the Mizo nation," he said, adding that the MNF is one of the oldest parties in the country. He claimed that the party is awarded by a divine blessing once Covid-19 subsided. "If we carry on the covenant, we will be protected by God. We should stray but carry on this covenant and fulfil it," he said.

The MNF was founded by former Mizoram chief minister late Laldenga to protest against the location of the Centre towards the famine situation in the Mizo areas of the Assam state in the late 1950s.

After a major uprising through peaceful means, the group took up arms and was involved in underground activities between 1960 and 1986.

After coming overground in 1986, the MNF was converted into a political party and is now a recognised regional or state party. The MNF has won assembly polls in 1986, 1994, 2003 and 2018. Due to the incumbency wave, the party suffered a heavy defeat by winning only 3 out of 40 seats in the 2008 assembly elections. With its strong total prohibition agenda and the incumbency wave on the ruling Congress, the MNF came back to power in 2018 assembly polls under the leadership of Zoramthanga by sweeping 26 seats and later won one more seat in the assembly bypoll.

Teacher shortage pushes local leader to issue recruitment advt

ITANAGAR, SEPT 21: The lack of subject teachers in the government schools of Anupachal Pradesh, especially in the East Kameng district, has compelled a local paritayal leader to step forward and carry out a teacher's recruitment drive of his own.

Moik Bagang, a zilla parish member (ZPM) from the Chayang Tajo Zilla Segment in East Kameng district has recently put out an advertisement to hire post graduate teachers (PGTs) for the Government Higher Secondary School in Chayang Tajo.

The advertisement seeks to appoint two PGTs, one each for Geography and History on contractual basis for a period of 6 months and for which Bagang has offered to pay a salary of Rs 33,000/- each, per month, to the educators from his personal expenses.

According to Bagang, the Government Higher Secondary School, Chayang Tajo which needs around 23-28 teachers has only 16 tutors at present.

Those interested in the vacancy can send their resumes to moikbagang@gmail.com on or before September 24 and the preferred candidate would be called for an interview at Bagang's residence on September 25.

The All East Kameng Students Union (AEKSOU), which has been spearheading the movement for filling up of the vacant posts of subject teachers in the East Kameng district for the past 3 years, took to social media to appreciate Bagang for his philanthropic gesture towards the helpless student. "We on behalf of the student community of East Kameng district wholeheartedly extend our thankfulness to Shri Moik Bagang for his generosity/philanthropy towards the helpless student. We can proudly say that this is the biggest donation ever for the greater interest of the district," the Union's post in social media read. Several government schools of the East Kameng district, which is represented by 4 MLAs including a cabinet minister, have been suffering since long due to the lack of subject teachers in the institutions.

According to a letter written by the Government Higher Secondary School (GHSS), Seppa to the director of education earlier this month, the school alone lacks 4 post graduate and 10 trained graduate teachers, besides a librarian and a peon.

Among others, the posts of chemistry, biology and physics teachers (TGT) have remained vacant in the school since 2012, while English teachers (TGT) have not been posted in the school since the year 2005. It is the headquarters of Anupachal Pradesh district. The Anupachal Pradesh government has declared 2021 as the 'Year of Education.'
